The Society was founded in 1824. It is presently constituted under the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Acts of 1932, 1940, and 1958. The 1932 Act made provision for the Society to have Rules and the original Rules are set out in the Schedule to the Act. The 1932 Act also made provision for the Society to make changes to the Rules in accordance with procedures set out in the Act.

The 2020 edition contains the Rules, as amended by the Society since 1932 and, where necessary, confirmed by various Orders of the Charity Commission. It includes the most recent amendments to the Rules passed at the Society’s Annual General Meeting held on 16 December 2020.

(ii) in relation to the terms of office of Honorary Officers, also denote consecutive years in office, whether or not of exactly twelve calendar months (with, in particular, the period in Honorary Office from the first Board meeting after the Society’s annual general meeting to the subsequent year’s annual general meeting constituting a ‘year’ for these purposes), and with continuity being deemed to endure through any temporary period out of Honorary Office between the Election Announcement (as defined in Rule VI.9) and re-appointment at the first meeting of the Board after the Election Announcement;

VI Procedure for election of Trustees by members and related matters

1. The provisions in this Rule VI shall govern the election of the Trustees elected by the members of the Society. In addition, the Board of Trustees may from time to time make bye-laws governing elections prescribing, amongst other things, the voting mechanisms available to members.

2. One third of such Trustees elected by the members of the Society shall retire annually at the annual general meeting, in the order of seniority according to the date of their election or last re-election to the Board (the retirement of Trustees of equal seniority being determined by lot).

3. The Board of Trustees shall prepare a form of nomination paper and no members shall be eligible for election as a Trustee unless their nomination paper is signed by the proposer and seconder and three other members of the Society. A copy or copies of the form of nomination paper shall on request be supplied to any member of the Society. This form shall provide space for the insertion of all necessary particulars as to the candidate including the date when the candidate first became a member of the Society and how long such membership has been, and for a brief statement (not to exceed nine hundred words) of the work the candidate has done for animals and the candidate’s other qualifications if any for Trusteeship. The form shall also provide for a statement to be signed by the candidate of willingness, if elected, to serve on the Board of Trustees.

4. The voting papers containing the names and addresses of all the candidates and instructions on how members may register their vote shall not later than twenty-eight clear days before the annual general meeting be sent to all members of the Society entitled to vote together with a memorandum containing particulars referred to in Rule VI.3 and the names of their respective proposers seconders and three nominators. If a candidate has at any point in the previous three years received a formal written warning under Rule IV.16(a), been temporarily suspended from attending meetings of the Board of Trustees under Rule IV.16(b), received a formal request to resign under Rule IV.16(c), or vacated office as a Trustee under Rule VIII, this information may be disclosed to the members of the Society in the memorandum.

5. (ii) by sending to any member an annual review together with a written notice asking the member to select whether they wish to receive the statement of accounts and annual report of the Society or the annual review.

Unless and until the Society receives a reply that the member concerned wishes to receive the statement of accounts and annual report referred to in Rule XV, the member will, subject to any notice received by the Chief Executive of the Society in accordance with Rule XX.3(a) and the entitlement referred to in Rule XVI.2(g), only receive an annual review in the future.

4. The Chief Executive of the Society shall send not less than fourteen days before the holding of an annual general meeting to those members who have applied for admission tickets an agenda stating the business to be transacted at such meeting; such an agenda to be sent also to those members expressly asking to be furnished with same. Such agenda shall be settled by the Board of Trustees and the Board of Trustees shall, subject to rule XXI.2, have the absolute power to decide whether any resolution submitted to a meeting is to be treated as a special resolution.

XXI Voting at general meetings

1. None but members of the Society as defined in Rule III shall be competent to vote at any annual or extraordinary general meeting and the voting at each meeting shall be personal. In the event of equality of votes the Chair of the meeting shall have a second or casting vote.

2. At an annual general meeting of the Society any resolution to revoke alter or vary the Rules of the Society which affects the rights and privileges of members of the Society as members (but not otherwise) is to be treated as a special resolution.
XXII Matters for discussion at general meetings

1. The Board of Trustees shall have power to exclude from discussion at any annual general meeting any resolution or matter the subject matter of which has been discussed at any extraordinary general meeting of the Society held during the preceding three years.

2. The Board of Trustees shall have power to refuse to convene an extraordinary general meeting called under Rule XIX.2 to discuss any resolution or matter the subject matter of which has been discussed at any meeting of the Society or has been the subject matter of a poll held during the preceding three years.

3. The Board of Trustees shall have absolute discretion to decide whether the subject matter of any proposed resolution or matter falls within that Rule.

XXIII Supplying list of members

A list of names and addresses of all the members entitled to a vote shall be kept at Headquarters and any member of the Society when a poll is taken or an extraordinary general meeting is called shall be entitled to receive a copy on payment of such sum as the Board determines to be reasonable.

XXIV Quorum at general meetings

No business shall be transacted at an annual or at an extraordinary general meeting unless at least fifty members are present. No special resolution at any annual meeting and no resolution at any extraordinary general meeting shall be deemed to be carried unless at least three-fifths of the members present vote in favour thereof.

XXV Demand for a poll

In respect of any resolution passed at an annual or extraordinary general meeting five hundred members of the Society may by notice in writing to the Chief Executive of the Society within twenty-one days of such meeting demand a poll of all the members in respect of such resolution and thereupon a poll shall be taken forthwith by the Board of Trustees. Upon a poll being taken no resolution shall be deemed to be carried unless at least three-fifths of the members voting, vote in favour thereof. This Rule shall not prejudice the power of the Board of Trustees to take a poll of all the members of the Society under Rule IV. 11.

XXVI Impartial statement on a poll

When a poll of the members is taken under these Rules the Board of Trustees shall draw up and issue to the members a statement of facts setting out the circumstances under which the poll is to be taken and including a brief summary of the arguments advanced on both sides signed by the Chair.

XXVII Method of taking a poll

A poll of the members under these Rules shall be taken by means of polling papers forwarded from Headquarters and returned within such time and addressed to such person as the Board of Trustees may direct. The Board of Trustees will notify the members the result of the poll as soon as possible after the poll has been taken.
XXVIII Expulsion of members

A member of the Society as defined by Rule III shall cease to be a member and shall thereupon forfeit all rights and privileges as such if the member's conduct, in the opinion of not less than two thirds of the members of the Board of Trustees present and voting at a meeting of the Board of Trustees, has been prejudicial to the interests of the Society provided that prior to such meeting reasonable notice in writing shall have been given to the member of the intention of the Board of Trustees to consider the member's conduct and an opportunity afforded to the member to submit any explanation either personally or in writing at the option of such member to the Board of Trustees. Notice shall be deemed sufficient and reasonable if despatched by recorded delivery post to the last known address of the member not later than 24 clear days before the meeting of the Board of Trustees at which the conduct is to be considered, and shall contain an indication of the matters of which complaint is made together with copies of or sufficient extracts from documents to be considered by the Board of Trustees. The member shall supply the Chief Executive not less than 10 days prior to the Board of Trustees meeting with a copy of any document or statement to be used in connection with the proceedings by the member and with the names of any persons whom the member wishes to call to give oral evidence and/or to act as the member's friend or advocate at the meeting. The members of any Committee of the Board of Trustees which has recommended the Board of Trustees to exercise the power contained in this Rule in any particular case shall not be entitled to vote when any resolution in that case is put to the Board of Trustees.

XXIX Sending notices, information and other documents required by these Rules

1. Without prejudice to Rule XX.1, the Society can serve, send, circulate, forward or deliver any notice, information or other document required by these Rules on or to a member:

(a) personally;

(b) by posting it in a letter (with postage paid) to the address recorded for the member on the list of members;

(c) by delivering it to that address;

(d) if the member is also an employee of the Society or one of its subsidiaries, through the internal mail system of the Society or that subsidiary; or

(e) by making it available on a website, provided that the requirements in Rule XXIX.2 are satisfied.

To avoid doubt, the method of delivery adopted by the Society on any one occasion shall not in any way restrict the Society from using an alternative method of delivery on a different occasion.

2. The requirements referred to in Rule XXIX.1 relating to websites are that:

(a) the member has agreed (generally or specifically) that the notice, information or other document may be sent or supplied to the member by being made available on a website (and has not revoked that agreement);

(b) the member is sent a notification by email or any of the methods specified in Rule XXIX.1 of the presence of the notice, information or other document on a website, the address of that website, the place on that website where it may be accessed, and how it may be accessed (‘notification of availability’). In relation to joint members, where both persons in a couple have supplied the Society with the same email address, a notification of availability addressed jointly to them and sent to that email address shall be deemed to constitute separate notification to each of them for the purposes of this Rule;

(c) in the case of a notice of meeting, the notification of availability states that it concerns a notice of a general meeting, specifies the place, time and date of the meeting, and states whether it will be an annual general meeting; and

(d) the notice, information or other document continues to be published on that website, in the case of a notice of meeting, throughout the period beginning with the date of the notification of availability and ending with the conclusion of the meeting and in all other cases throughout the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the notification of availability is sent to the member, save that if the notice, information or other document is made available for part only of that period then failure to make it available throughout that period shall be disregarded where such failure is wholly attributable to circumstances which it would not be reasonable to have expected the Society to prevent or avoid.

3. The Society may at any time and from time to time, at its sole discretion, choose to give, send or forward notices, information or other documents only in hard copy form to some or all members.

4. If a notice, information or other document is made available on a website it is treated as being sent on the date on which notification of availability on the website is sent or, if later, the date on which it is first made available on the website.

5. If members are present at any general meeting, they shall be deemed to have received notice of the meeting and the reason why it was called.

If documents are accidentally not sent

6. If a notice, or other document relating to any meeting or other proceeding (including but not limited to a notice of availability), is accidentally not sent, or is not received, the meeting or other proceeding shall not be invalid as a result.

Validation of document

7. Where these Rules require a document to be signed by a member or any other person, if the document is in electronic form, then in order to be valid the document must either:

(a) incorporate the electronic signature or personal identification details of the member or other person, in a form approved by the Society; or

(b) be accompanied by such other evidence as the Society may require in order to be satisfied that the document is genuine.

Availability of document or information

8. Any notice, information or other document sent or supplied by means of a website must be made available in a form, and by a means that the Society reasonably considers will enable the recipient to read it and to retain a copy of it. For this purpose any notice, information or other document can only be read if:

(a) it can be read with the naked eye, or

(b) to the extent that it consists of images (for example photographs), it can be seen with the naked eye.
Rescinding and altering Rules

These Rules shall take effect as from the 13th January, 1932 and all Rules then in force shall be and the same are hereby rescinded as from that date but without prejudice to anything done thereunder and shall remain in force until revoked altered or varied either by resolution passed at an annual or extraordinary general meeting or by a poll of the members under Rule IV. (11) or Rule XXV. and confirmed where necessary as provided by Section 10 of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act, 1932.
